Tech

Experience nearly-zero-silence driving pleasure with the new generation Silent Drive wheel system.

We have brought great innovation to the pulley systems used in Reformer machines so far. Now, thanks to the pulley system with an ability of 360-degree mobility, raspy noises, especially in circle movements, are completely isolated. With our newly developed spring technology, it is impossible to hear the smallest popping out, resonance and similar sounds in the springs. A more comfortable driving experience than ever before is now waiting for you.

Zi Studio Reformer

SKU: Z00011

The most important point of the spring operating mechanism on the reformer is that it provides safety and consistent resistance. When this safety and consistent resistance is integrated into a zero-silence operating mechanism, you'll have workouts that you indulge in excellently. ZiPilates™' own and unprecedented new generation spring technology was specially designed for the Reformer. All steel parts are plated with nickel chrome. It does not lose its clean and bright appearance on the first day for many years. Thanks to special color-coded hooks, tapered tips and ZiPilates' own special spring-head technology, you do not have problems with springs such as popping out and resonance.

Zi Studio Reformer

Zi Springwall

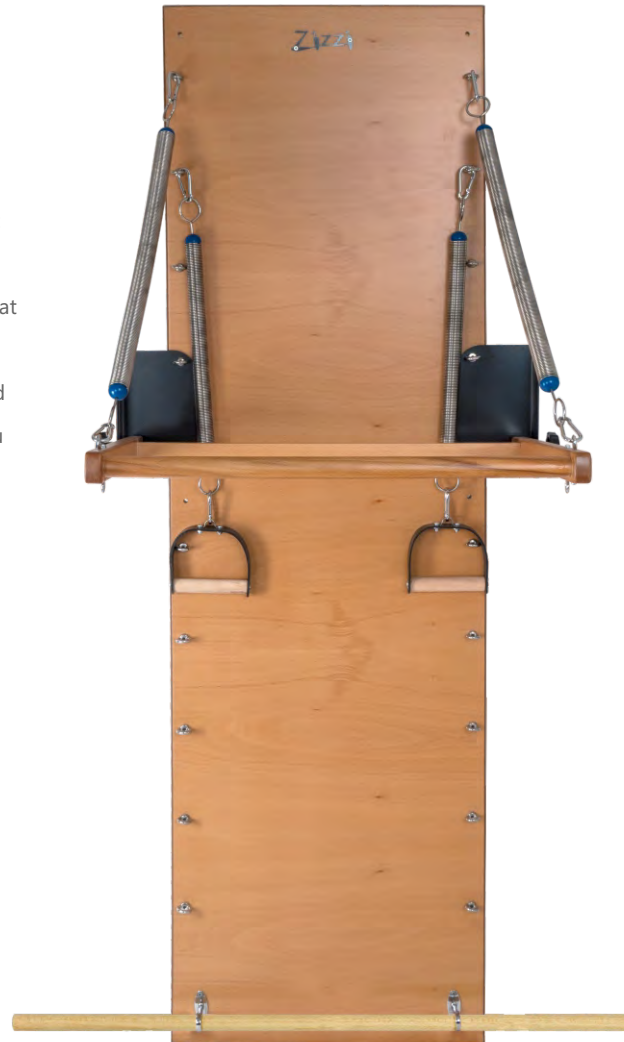

Zi SpringWall

zipilates®

SKU: Z00015

The Springwall unit is a compact Pilates equipment that takes on many tasks of the Reformer tower extension in confined spaces. Since it is mounted flat on the wall, the space it occupies in your studio or room is only 5 cm. This compact design is delivered with stainless connection points through which you can set up to 10 different spring levels and with a wooden bottom bar to take support during your workouts.

Zi SpringWall

SKU: Z00015

The most important point of the spring operating mechanism on the springwall is that it provides safety and consistent resistance. When this safety and consistent resistance is integrated into a zero-silence operating mechanism, you'll have workouts that you indulge in excellently. Zizzi™'s own and unprecedented new generation spring technology was specially designed for the Reformer. Unlike nickel-plated steel, the reformer springs, which are put into their final form passing through special brushing techniques after being made of 0 stainless steel, shine as if they were subjected to a coating process and do not lose their first day's brightness for years. Stainless steel material does not corrode and tarnish. Thanks to special color-coded hooks, tapered tips and Zizzi's own special spring-head technology, you do not have problems with springs such as popping out and resonance.
